120,000 Ford Co. Workers Strike

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers struck the Ford Motor Co. today as company and union negotiators apparently remained deadlocked on a new contract agreement.

Acting under union orders, some 120,000 Ford hourly workers walked off the job. UAW leaders here telephoned walkout instructions to locals across the country in observance of its 10 a.m. strike deadline.

It was the first nationwide strike against Ford by the UAW since the company was organized by the union in 1941.

The walkouts came as negotiators continued a marathon bargaining session in an effort to avert a crippling strike. Company and union negotiators have been in continuous session for almost 25 hours.

Struggling Toward Accord

Ford, facing its first general strike in 20 years, and the union were struggling in bargaining talks to reach an agreement as the walkouts took place.

The last time Ford had a strike was in 1941 at the time of the union's organizing of Ford's workers. There were limited strikes in 1955 and 1958 during contract negotiations.

Ford and the UAW reportedly were deadlocked over noneconomic contract issues, including production standards, after having settled on economic terms at midnight in overnight negotiations.

Before going back into the bargaining room at 5:50 a.m., UAW President Walter P. Reuther was plainly angered.

"The company is paralyzed by indecision," Reuther told newsmen. "They don't know which side is up."

Beforehand, as the UAW kept in touch with its local unions by telephone, a recess was taken in the marathon negotiations for what the union called a company caucus.

Agree On Money Matters

At 6 a.m. President Carl Stelato of UAW Ford Local 600, the union's largest, said, "We might be able to hold our people on the job provided we get some action quickly in the bargaining room." Ford and the union reportedly were hung up on noneconomic issues after having reached agreement at midnight on money matters. Production rates were reported an unsettled issue.

The company said at 7:30 a.m.

De Gaulle To Carry Out Algeria Plan

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle served notice on his political critics and enemies today that he is determined to carry out self-determination for rebelling Algeria, come what may.

In a nationwide radio-TV speech Monday night, the vigorous 70-year-old general made it clear he will not be side-tracked by bickering politicians or right-wing terrorists who want to keep Algeria a part of France.

Much of his speech repeated the policy he has frequently enunciated to resolve the nearly seven-year-old rebellion but with emphasis on these two points:

1. He will establish a provisional executive body to run Algerian affairs until a final solution is reached through a popular referendum. By implication, he appealed to the Algerian nationalist rebels to take part in the provisional regime and in preparations for the vote.

2. He will establish a security force (Force Publique) to see that the work of this future executive will neither be hampered nor destroyed.

De Gaulle did not go into detail about his "Force Publique." He had previously indicated in conversations with political leaders that it would consist of 50,000 men, largely Algerian Moslems.

there were no reports of day shift employees being off the job.

Negotiators had met more or less continuously behind closed doors in a Detroit hotel room since 9 a.m. Monday.

At stake was a new national three-year agreement covering economic and non-economic matters for 120,000 Ford production workers.

Syria Sets Policy Of Neutrality

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Premier Mamoun Kuzbari today launched his revolutionary regime on a neutral course in foreign affairs. At home he pronounced a policy of encouraging private ownership.

Thus he followed President Gamal Abdel Nasser's foreign policy of nonalignment in the cold war, while putting a brake on the United Arab Republic's nationalization program that stirred unrest in Syria.

The Syrian lawyer-politician outlined his views Monday night in his first news conference with foreign correspondents since the uprising that sundered the Syrian-Egyptian merger under the flag of the U.A.R.

Pledging a return to parliamentary democracy, he put a four-month time limit on the period he and his Cabinet would serve, adding: "I hope the time will be less."

Kuzbari termed the four-month period the maximum he would allow the new regime "to prepare for elections and parliamentary rule."

He said the Cabinet will discuss the possible return of firms nationalized last summer by decree of President Nasser. But Nasser's agrarian reform program, the premier said, "will remain as is."

The government, which he termed the Syrian Arab Republic, will aim toward "a sound, democratic socialist life" which Kuzbari said will encourage private ownership, industrialization and foreign investment.

As one step toward a return to democratic principles, Kuzbari said the ruthless intelligence agency once headed by Col. Abdul Hamid Serraj had been closed and its agents arrested. He said Serraj, whose secret police once held Syria in a tight grip, was placed under house arrest the Council Considers Ordinances Tonight

A least four ordinances will be up for City Council's consideration when the legislators meet at 7:30 tonight at City Hall.

One of the ordinances prepared by Solicitor Scott McCorkhill would provide for the issuance of notes in anticipation of property assessments to pay for street improvements on sections of Penn Ave., N. Broadway and Lundy Ave.

The $7,462.83 to be borrowed will be paid for eventually by the benefiting property owners through assessments. The other half of the total cost of the street repairs is to be paid for by the city from the income tax capital improvement fund. This money is already in fund.

Another ordinance would authorize the rezoning of an area south of E. Pershing St. behind the City Hospital from R-1 (single family residential) to R-2 (general residential).

Other ordinances up for consideration would have the city vacating Half St. and Apple Alley. If these ordinances are approved, Half St. and Apple Alley will be given up by the city and revert to private property.

12 Persons Killed In Two Accidents

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—"Why can't people drive better? Why can't they be more careful?"

Roger Lewis, 11, stubbornly held back tears as he spoke.

"I don't know who was to blame," he said slowly. "But someone must have been careless, or they'd have come for me and we'd all be together again."

His grandmother laid her hand on his shoulder. They sat together on an old studio couch beneath a tree, both thinking of his future.

Roger Lewis and his family had driven up Sunday from their home in Blair, a little Missouri River town 25 miles east of Fremont. Roger's stepfather, Dallas Talkington, was going to apply for a job Monday at a concrete products plant here.

Roger's mother let him spend Sunday night with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Dahmens. The Talkingtons would pick him up Monday, she told him.

Talkington, 46, had found the going tough since bringing his family from Craig, Colo., 10 months ago but they had stayed off relief. Two months ago Talkington got a job in a Blair factory. When he found the paint fumes there made him ill, he started looking for another job.

Talkington didn't get the job he sought in Fremont. So he headed the family's 1953 model car for

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—"I told them 'I wish you'd take the school bus today.'"

But, Mrs. John Altmeyer said, her son, Robert, 17, told her the bus "just got them there in time for school, and he had some history homework to do before classes began."

And as they had done many times before, her son and four close friends drove to Franklin Central High School. All five died about eight hours later when a swift New York Central passenger train twisted their car into two piles of scrap metal.

Others killed were Altmeyer's sister, Loral Elaine, 14; Stephen Pratt, 16; his sister, Nadine Louise, 14; and Linnie Taylor, 14.

"The five were the best of friends," said a neighbor. They lived in the same block in southeastern Marion County. "When you saw one, you saw all five."

They died in a crash less than a mile from the school.

The youngsters climbed into Pratt's 1949 model car shortly after classes had been dismissed at 2:40 p.m. Nine minutes later they were dead.

About the time school was out, a Chicago-Cincinnati passenger train was leaving Indianapolis Union Station. It was 11 minutes behind schedule. By the time the train reached the crossing, it was

Leetonia Man Dies In Crash

John Hewitt Victim In Pennsylvania

A Leetonia man suffered fatal injuries Monday in a one-car accident on Rt. 18, south of Washington, Pa.

John Hewitt, 23, of 480 Columbia St. died of a fractured skull in Pittsburgh Mercy Hospital two hours after the mishap which occurred at 7:15 p.m.

The Washington barracks of the Pennsylvania State Highway Patrol said Hewitt's auto ran off the road, struck two mailboxes and overturned.

He was alone in the car. About $1,000 damage was caused to the auto.

Hewitt and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hewitt, moved to Leetonia last Saturday from Washington. Both the victim and his father are employed as truck drivers.

The body was taken to Washington where burial services are expected to be held.

The victim was the Hewitts' only child.

INSTRUCTOR CHARGED

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Dale H. Ross, 28, an instructor at the University of Akron, was charged Monday with embezzling $1,690 from the First National Bank, where he formerly was employed.

4 Others Named In 'Shakedown Ring'

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — The Trumbull County grand jury has indicted three Warren city councilmen, the chairman of the Trumbull County Democratic Party, a Warren cafe owner and professional bondsman, and two others in connection with an alleged shakedown of contractors in the award of a multi-million dollar sewer project.

Indicted were Frank Cickelli, county Democratic chief, city councilmen Raymond J. Little, Jack Flask and John Janosik and the bondsman, James Matash.

Common Pleas Court Judge G. H. Birrell said two others were included in the secret indictments, but had not been served with charges. Cickelli and Little were released on $10,000 bond each, and Flask, Janosik and Matash on $5,000 bonds. None entered pleas. They are to appear Friday for arraignment.

Judge Cites Charge

Judge Birrell said Cickelli, who appeared before the judge voluntarily, was accused of conspiring to extort money from the contracting firms. They are the Rocco Ferrare Construction Co. of Detroit and Boam Construction Co. of Livonia, Mich. According to Judge Birrell, the indictments named these persons and charges:

Youth Held In Killing of KSU Coed

MONTEREY PARK, Calif. (AP) — "I'm glad it's over. I'm glad I can stop running. If I hadn't hurt Judy it would have been some other girls."

Police said Monday night a 17-year-old hitchhiker told them this in admitting the hammer and rope slaying of an Ohio girl last Sept. 3.

He is Richard John Stewart, 17, of Cuyahoga Falls, near Akron. The dead girl was Judith Sooy, 18, a Kent State University coed.

Officers say Stewart acknowledged luring her into his home while his parents were away for the weekend.

Police Chief William Coleman said the six-foot Stewart told him that he had had a sex problem since the age of 6. The chief said Stewart signed a statement giving this story:

Stewart made a date with Judith using another youth's name. When he picked her up the next night, he told her the other fellow couldn't come. Stewart drove her to his home to pick up a record player and persuaded her to go with him to the basement.

There he hit her with a hammer, knocking her unconscious. When she began to revive, he strangled her with a rope.

"I didn't intend to kill her," Chief Coleman quoted Stewart as saying. "I just wanted to unclothe her and look at her nude body."

"After it happened — after she died in my arms, I became scared," Coleman quoted him. "I started to run. I've run day and night the last month. I stopped at police stations . . . hoping they'd recognize me and arrest me."

He said he hitchhiked to Baltimore, Washington, D. C., Miami, then to Los Angeles, arriving two weeks ago. Then he thumbed rides to the east coast, but returned to Los Angeles a second time.

He said he hardly knew Judith but had seen her at high school, where he was a senior.

September Weather Was Above Average

September brought the season up to date with above average temperature. District Weather Observer Edwin Copeland said today in his monthly summary.

The first 14 days last month averaged 88 degrees for the maximum temperature. The frost on the 29th was four days ahead of normal, he added.

September's temperature averages 66.6 degree for entire month, which was above the 63 degree average. It also was warmer than the 64 degree average of the corresponding month a year ago.

Rainfall last month measured 2.49 inches, which far exceeded the drouth a year ago when only .67 of an inch of rain was recorded. Copeland said. The precipitation last month almost equaled the September average of 2.96 inches.

The observer said "the next three months could average above in temperature since we are behind one degree every day for the first nine months this year. The rainfall is only one inch short for this year to date."

He said the rain of the past two days will help the fall seeding on farms get started.

Flask and Janosik — Soliciting $20,000 from one construction company official and five per cent of a completed sewage project valued at several hundred thousand dollars; intimidating a grand jury witness.

Follow Work Stoppage

The indictments followed a sudden work stoppage just before Labor Day on the $4,400,566 project for construction of the Red Run diversion conduit and Mahoning River interceptor sewer.

The Boam and Ferrare companies had said only that "internal problems" had caused the work stoppage. They had tried to assign the contracts to Monzo Construction Co. of Monroeville, Pa., which had sued in federal court at Cleveland to upset the original award of the work on the grounds Monzo had a lower bid entered.

Slayer of 2 Faces Life Imprisonment

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Cleo W. Porter, 33, a former steelworker, faces life imprisonment for the April 18 shotgun slayings of his wife and her father in Massillon.

He was saved from the electric chair by a recommendation of mercy by the three-judge panel that convicted him of first-degree murder in Stark County common pleas court Monday.

Porter appeared stunned when the verdict was read by Judge George N. Graham, but later told a reporter he felt his lawyers had done "everything possible" for him.

The death penalty had been asked by Prosecutor Norman J. Putman, who requested that Porter be sentenced immediately. The court, however, granted defense attorneys time to file a motion for a new trial.

Porter was charged with the slaying of his wife, Judith, 23, and her father, Jacob Hain, 51, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reighart. The Reigharts were wounded in the shooting spree.

Testimony brought out that Mrs. Porter had sought refuge in the Reighart home following a family argument and a struggle between Porter and Hain.

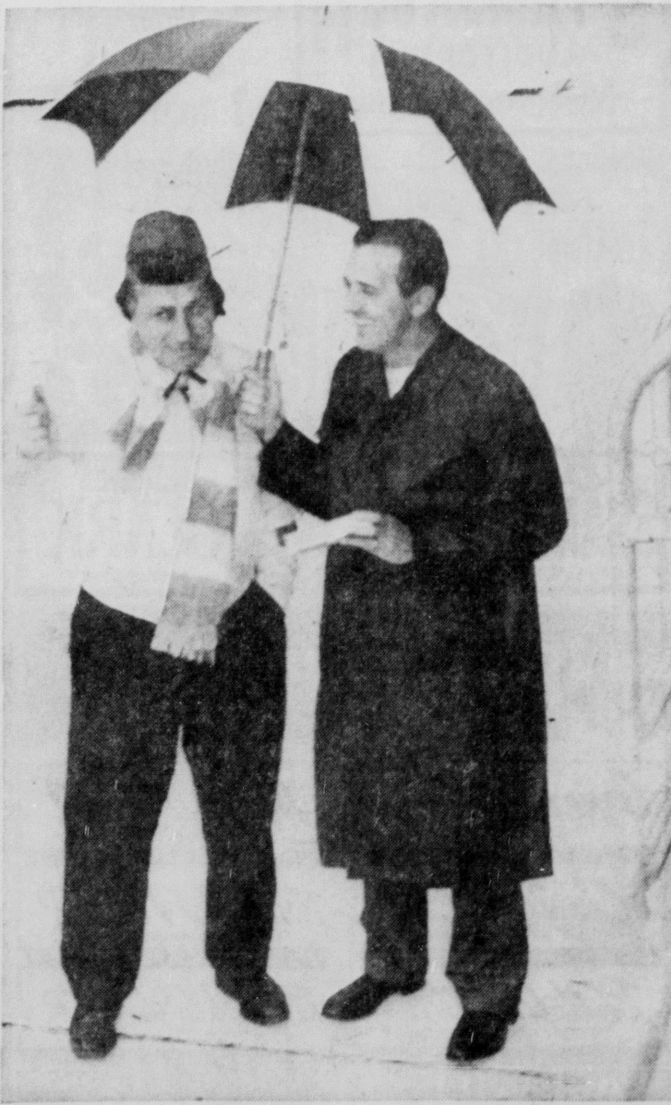

Porter said he blacked out and did not remember the shooting, but didn't deny he committed them.

Defense witnesses testified he had suffered brain damage when he was struck on the head in an industrial accident in 1955.

Will Study Soviet Methods

Red China Admits Failures
In Farm, Factory Production

TOKYO (AP)—Red China admits failures in farm and factory and in the midst of its economic difficulties has turned to a study of the Soviet Union's "experiences in socialist construction."

These disclosures unfolded today from thousands of words of editorials and speeches during the just-concluded Oct. 1 celebration of the 12th anniversary of the Red regime's founding.

While studying Soviet experience in building its economy, Red

China has emphasized it will continue the rural communes as sailed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev as impractical.

Chinese officials report failures in agricultural production had a damaging impact on heavy and light industry and the nation's living standards.

Speeches and editorials made repeated references to difficulties brought on by natural calamities—drought, flood and typhoon—in the past three years.

Peiping earlier this year conceded that the grain harvest had been a bad one. But this was the first direct admission of the effect of crop failure on light and heavy industry and "the people's livelihood."

Essentially an agricultural country, Red China always has depended upon agricultural exports to get the machinery needed for industrialization.

The official Peiping People's Daily said: "While achieving great successes, we have encountered certain difficulties in the economy in our forward march and there have been certain shortcomings in our work."

It went on to say that this year has been one of great readjustment "to overcome the new discrepancy in the balance of the national economy."

The paper indicated there is a grave shortage of raw materials to feed the nation's growing industrial complex. It called for efforts to boost the production of light industry and handicrafts, the capacity of mining and lumber projects.

Nuclear-Powered Rocket Ship
In Five Years, Aim of U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States aims to have a rocket with a nuclear engine ready for flight testing in about five years, a U.S. space official said today.

Nuclear propulsion, he said, is "necessary for manned interplanetary flights."

The official, Harold B. Finger, assistant director for nuclear applications for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, made his remarks in a paper prepared for delivery before the International Astronautical Congress.

He said NASA and the Atomic Energy Commission have been investigating flight-testing methods in a program known as RIFT for "reactor in flight test."

"Some time after the beginning of 1962, an industrial contractor will begin development activities on a RIFT-vehicle to meet the objectives of achieving flight testing in the 1966-67 time period," Finger said.

Plans call for launching the nuclear rocket on a short-range ballistic flight from Cape Canaveral, Fla. It would be lifted by a Saturn-type first stage.

After the initial RIFT flights, said Finger, other tests will be made involving:

1. Missions in which the vehicle will attain sufficient speed to leave the earth's gravitational field and go into orbit around the sun.
2. Flights in which the reactor is started up after it is in orbit around the earth.

Finger said present rocket engines, which produce thrust from energy liberated in a combustion process, are inadequate for extensive manned space missions.

If only chemical propulsion were used, he said, it would be necessary to place a spacecraft weighing 9 million pounds in orbit around the earth in order to conduct a manned flight to Mars and return. The use of nuclear rocket engines would reduce the spacecraft weight to about 900,000 pounds.

JFK To Get
Report From Military

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy hears a report from his military chiefs today on how the defense buildup — by the United States and its Allies — is faring.

Kennedy was briefed Monday by Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the diplomatic side of the Berlin crisis.

He will confer twice during the day with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe, will sit in on the afternoon session.

Norstad likely will tell Kennedy how the Allies are answering the President's request for additional North Atlantic Treaty Organization strength to cope with the Berlin situation.

At his last news conference, Aug. 30, the chief executive was only mildly optimistic about the Allies' response to his request to increase the Western defense system's military capability by 20 per cent.

Informants said Kennedy probably will meet with Soviet foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko on the Berlin situation late this week.

Kennedy, who returned Monday from a vacation at Newport, R.I., promptly got together with Rusk at the White House.

It was Rusk's first chance to give Kennedy a first-hand report since Rusk and Gromyko began talks at the United Nations 10 days ago on whether a peaceful solution to the dispute is possible.

In his three meetings with Gromyko, Rusk sought to sound out the Soviet diplomat on points that might be taken up in broader East-West negotiations.

If Rusk believes he finds an opening in the Soviet position, the United States will be willing to enter a conference, probably at the foreign ministers level, to arrive at a negotiated settlement on Berlin.

The time for the Kennedy-Gromyko meeting presumably depends on the President's ability to find an opening in his schedule which Gromyko can accept.

Nuclear Fugitives
Settle In California

CHICO, Calif. (AP) — Alvin Bauman, spokesman for the New York "nuclear fugitives," said to Chico Mayor Ross Lawler, "We want to become a part of your city and to grow with it."

Bauman, 43, a concert pianist and former Columbia University professor, spoke for the 35 emigres fleeing what they consider a greater nuclear danger in New York.

The question is, how will they become a part of Chico?

Their group numbers such diversified talents as those of Teal Ames, former television actress; Gene Gordon, a sculptor; Jane Andrews, teacher; Lou Oles, a free-lance trumpet player; and pianist Bauman.

Mayor Lawler was optimistic about the group's chances for settling and becoming useful citizens.

He said, "They've all rented homes here. We even understand they've made deposits in our local bank. So you know they aren't a bunch of beatniks. Yes sir—I think it's going to be all right."

If worse comes to worst in finding employment, maybe some of the emigrants could even find jobs at the nuclear missile launching center a few miles outside Chico.

Nixon Is a Professional

All the things that lint-pickers will be busy with in Richard M. Nixon's decision to bid for California's governorship next year disappear when one fact is remembered.

Mr. Nixon is in politics as a professional. He doesn't do it for his health. He was not born to riches. He has had no other career. Politics is all he knows, and he is good at it.

When he went home to California after being edged out in his try for the presidency last year, it was a 10-1 bet he would keep his hand in by running for governor in 1962.

It also was a 10-1 bet that he would not stick his neck out by running again for president in 1964, unless confronted with one of those situations in which he had to go through the motions for the sake of the Republican party.

If the party could find no one else of stature to lead its ticket, it might have to draft Mr. Nixon for a second attempt, the way Democrats drafted Adlai Stevenson in 1956. In that event, Mr. Nixon, a loyalist, would have to make the race, against John F. Kennedy, on the assumption Mr. Kennedy will be renominated by the Democratic party — as he can be if he wants to be.

IF RENOMINATED, Mr. Kennedy would be the favorite to win in 1964. Candidates for second terms always are favorites over the challengers. And Mr. Nixon, the professional, has no logical reason to put himself through that kind of meat-grinder.

Republicans can give their nomination in 1964 either to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York or Sen. Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona, depending on how the party factions are shaping up by that time.

Because the two leading candidates in Mr. Nixon's absence represent extremist factions, as they did last year when Mr. Nixon tried to reconcile their differences by running as a mediator between them, the showdown in 1964 will be furious and bloody. The nomination might be battered and bent beyond recognition as a thing of value.

In 1968, when Mr. Nixon will be only 55 years old and Mr. Kennedy will have run out his constitutional time of two terms, if he makes it in 1964, Mr. Nixon can make his second run for the presidency.

THE NEXT TIME it would be the Kennedy record that would be up for scrutiny by voters of the party out of power, instead of the awkward problem that Mr. Nixon never quite solved in 1960 — what he should do about the voters who were sore for one reason or another about the Eisenhower record and would take it out on him, because Mr. Eisenhower couldn't be a candidate again.

These are things a professional politician must think about.

We are sure Mr. Nixon has been thinking about them and has done the only reasonable thing there was to be done.

He has made his move in plenty of time to give everybody else a chance to make their moves.

Nothing in politics causes more sleepless nights than a politician whose next move is being awaited. It's Gov. Rockefeller's move now. And Sen. Goldwater's.

Who Watches The Statisticians?

The game statisticians play with employment and unemployment estimates will get sillier month by month as business improves. It will reach a climax of silliness if and when business improvement finally accelerates the national economy to boomtime speed while statisticians still point gloomily to an ominous total of unemployment.

Business at this moment is good, even though unemployment continues to be bad — something like 7 per cent. Though it has become accepted practice to blame automation for everything that can't be explained otherwise, much more than automation must be looked at with suspicion in this instance. The unemployment figures are suspect.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics does not count either the employed or the unemployed; it merely estimates the totals after taking samplings in scattered places.

This is the same method used in compiling another statistic of great importance — the index of consumer prices. Here again the nation's state of economic health is determined by "projections" based on scattered samplings.

WHO IS UNEMPLOYED? Was a schoolboy who would have taken a summer job in the could have found one actually unemployed last August? Or was he only a schoolboy marking time until the opening of school?

The Bureau of Labor Statistics regards schoolboys as unemployed and lumps them in with its guesses on totals for unemployment. Then to go full circle on folly, it counts schoolboys who hold down summer jobs as part of the total for employment.

No distinction is made in this respect or in others of similar nature between first-line workers and reserves, part-time workers and no-time workers.

Unemployables who couldn't hold a job if they were given one are considered the same as employables. Citizens who take part-time jobs to earn extra money are lumped with those who need full-time jobs to support families.

THE TRAGEDY of such vague and deceptive "statisticating" is the use to which its results are put in politics.

It will be no cause for surprise if one day soon, with business on the edge of breaking the boom barrier, the same statisticians who periodically have told Americans they were facing sudden economic death jump out of the woodwork again to scream that all is lost because unemployment is two-tenths of one per cent higher than they think it should be.

The Answer Is 'No'

Several mothers have complained about sixth-graders being included in the eligible list for the Memorial Building-sponsored dances each Saturday night. They don't approve but they anticipate "pressure" from sixth graders whose parents have granted permission.

Rusty Tomlinson, supervisor of the community center, says he doesn't mean to sound like Ann Landers, but his advice to the worried mothers is to learn to say "No" and mean it.

Once Over

Chrysler skyscraper in New York, one of tallest buildings on earth, is being scrubbed outside for first time in 31 years by force of 10 men. Question: What do they do for a coffee break?

This is a tough job. How does man scrubbing 77-story building from outside feel?

How does he react to wife's morning warning: "Take care of yourself." What are her reactions to his, "I'm up on 68th story ledge today and if I'm late getting home to dinner don't give it a thought?"

"I get used to it," one of the scrubbers told us. "After all everybody is up in the air these days. Outer space is relative."

"Do you get any satisfaction out of washing a skyscraper?" we asked. "Yes, I'm nearer the moon than most of them scientists and engineers will ever get. The wife calls me Gagarin," he smiled.

"Do you have any fears up there, massaging a skyscraper?" we asked. "Don't be silly. How could a man look down on the scene in congested streets below and feel any sense of danger in being 77 floors above it?" he replied.

We asked how he got into such employment. "Well, I started on 15-story building as an apprentice sponge man, served three years on buildings under 20 stories and was so good I got promoted to a 30-story job.

I got a 56 story classification after I did a

24 hour shift 48 stories up on the A T & T building through a hurricane warning without asking about my insurance and pension rights. Now I can do a 77 story cleaning job by priority classification."

We inquired what he would do if up around the 75th floor he got a strike call to report at once in a fight for higher benefits. He admitted he couldn't respond too swiftly.

To question: "If called to walk out in sympathy with strike of flagpole sitters what would you do?" he replied "No comment on walkouts from this height."

ROGER MARIS, it is reported, will make more money for endorsements than any athlete in history. He has made a fair fortune boosting shaving creams, liniment, and cigarettes and is assured of big dough for plugging many other products. Added to all this is the income from personal appearances. To keep his eye on ball and bank account must be difficult. And no matter how the pitchers are pitching to him, doesn't Roger let his mind wander off to question of how the advertisers are pitching to him?

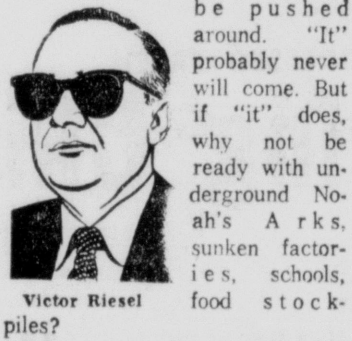

Roger is as convincing as anybody, but in this corner few testimonials seem as convincing as those of all baseball players. There is something about them that seems ridiculous, half hearted and at times plain stuff out of a Bert Lahr script.

Bringing Privilege to the Underprivileged

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

DALLAS, Tex. I have just traveled through the cave-conscious belt. Folks are not scared. Just cautious. Nobody wants war. But no one wants to be pushed around. "It" probably never will come. But if "it" does, why not be ready with underground Noah's Arks, sunken factories, schools, food stock

Why not use the old quarries, the limestone formations, the caverns in motion-picture type mesas, the open vastnesses which are far from any targets and into which tiny cities can be sunk. Some people are talking that way. I respect them—I've heard such talk before.

In London there is—or was—such a "city" deep under Knightsbridge. During my years in Munich, I ran into a huge underground empty factory, deep under a forest in which our GIs now play at guerrilla warfare.

The old Nazi regime intended it to be a jet plane factory. But they just never made it. Now it can serve again as a vast shelter or underground plant.

SOME YEARS AGO in Bonn, they told me of the Swedish operation. This year in Scandinavia I took the ferry outside the old "Hamlet" castle and drove into Sweden. It's true. Hundreds of miles from the two-mile strip of international waters which separate Sweden from Denmark, and which the Russians can take with just one speedboat, there are spectacular underground complexes.

The Swedes have burrowed deep into the granite. They have superb underground plants. Tens of thousands of skilled workmen earn their daily bread in this subterranean network.

There are nuclear power depots. There are aircraft factories. There are exhibition halls. There are living quarters for hundreds of thousands in an emergency.

Not only have the German government people been studying the Swedes' experiment, our experts have gone over too. They now agree that it does not cost any more to dig a plant out of a rocky mountain than it does to build one in the open air.

SOME OF THIS already has started in the West. There are warehouses dug deep in the vicinity of Kansas City, Denver and all along the Rocky Mountain range.

What intrigued some of my friends here was a report delivered by General Electric's astronautics engineering consultant, Mr. Dandridge M. Cole, to the American Astronautical Society early this year.

Mr. Cole said the time has come to plan for subterranean Noah's Arks—now—whether nuclear war comes or not.

Whatever happens, Cole said this would be the rehearsal for inhabiting the moon, the planets and other formations in space. Life up there could only exist in such colonies. So why not practice now in peacetime?

He did not call for such underground Arks merely as civil defense measures. He suggested these communities should be fully equipped for an indefinitely long existence in complete isolation from the rest of the country—or the world for that matter.

THE SCIENTIST said these communities could then survive anything—including an all-out nuclear war—if it ever is fought.

Each underground community, said Mr. Cole, should have a population of several thousand people. There should be the necessary plants and animals to make certain of a completely balanced diet.

Power for the light and life of the "Ark" could come from the sunlight conducted down into the underground city—or from nuclear reactors.

In the colony would be representatives of all the major professions, skills, arts, sciences, specialties and even the service trade.

To preserve knowledge, he urged that the Library of Congress contents be microfilmed and stored in each "Ark."

He said the colonies should be sunk to areas remote from the crowded communities in the East and West—in the mid-section through which I have just passed.

It is a sign of the times that he was not laughed at. He voiced what many people are thinking. They want to survive—but with dignity. And there is no dignity in perpetual retreat.

To Truman's Credit

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Ex-President Appointed Some Able Men

Former President Truman has been the recipient of a good many brickbats in his day, so credit now should be given where credit is due. For he did pick some able men for the public service. Yet newspaper reports in the last few days, in referring to various appointments by President Kennedy, have mentioned only their service under the Eisenhower administration while omitting that they were first appointed by President Truman.

Thus, for example, when the appointment of John A. McCone to be head of the Central Intelligence Agency to succeed Allen Dulles was announced last week, emphasis was placed generally on the point that he had served as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission under President Eisenhower.

But he also served previously as deputy to the secretary of defense in 1948 and then as under secretary of the air force during the height of the Korean War in 1950 and 1951. This is very important background and experience for a man who is chosen to run the Central Intelligence Agency during a "cold war."

Looking back to the Truman administration, one can find officials who served in important posts then who, by reason of that same experience, are appointees today of the Kennedy administration. Several of them hardly can be classed as active Democrats just because they served under a Democratic administration.

Thus, Dean Rusk was assistant secretary of state for far eastern affairs under the Truman administration and held other State Department posts from 1946 to 1952 except for a year when he was a special assistant to the secretary of war but he is not generally regarded as a political appointee.

Then there's Gen. Lucius Clay, Kennedy's special representative who, when appointed President in Berlin recently, was referred to the press as a Republican and as a friend of President Eisenhower. It so happens that, although Gen. Clay was a deputy commander under Gen. Eisenhower in 1945 he also served under President Truman as commander-in-chief of U.S. forces in Europe and military governor of the U.S. Zone in Germany from 1947 to 1948.

Again, when William C. Foster was named the other day as director of the new disarmament agency, emphasis was placed on the fact that he is a Republican. The experience he had under the Truman administration, however, was virtually ignored. He served as under secretary of commerce from 1946 to 1948 and as administrator of the economic cooperation administration in 1950 and 1951 and as deputy secretary of defense from 1951 to 1953—all this under the Truman administration.

There are many other officials appointed by President Kennedy who also served under President Truman. It may be assumed that they have been appointed to office by Mr. Kennedy not because they were Democrats, but because they have had experience in government in particular lines.

HERE ARE SOME of the men President Kennedy has appointed who served in the Truman administration:

Roswell L. Gilpatric, formerly assistant secretary and then under secretary of the Air Force from 1951 to 1953, is today the deputy secretary of defense.

Thomas K. Finletter, who was secretary of the Air Force from 1950 to 1953, is now ambassador to NATO.

James E. Webb, who was director of the Bureau of the Budget from 1946 to 1949 and then under secretary of state from 1949 to 1952, is now head of the National Space and Aeronautics Administration.

Paul Nitze, who now is assistant secretary of defense in charge of international security affairs, served in various capacities under Democratic administrations beginning in 1939 and was director of the policy planning staff of the secretary of state from 1950 to 1952 under President Truman.

Eugene M. Zuckert, who now is secretary of the Air Force, served as assistant secretary of the Air Force from 1947 to 1952 and as a member of the Atomic Energy Commission from 1952 to 1954.

Roger Tubby, who was assistant press secretary for Mr. Truman at the White House from 1950 to 1952 and had served previously as an information officer in other departments of the government, now is assistant secretary of state for public affairs.

THERE ARE several other men who were first appointed by President Truman and now hold important posts in the Kennedy administration.

Among them is George McClellan, who is chairman of the Policy Planning Council in the State Department but who served in that department under the Truman administration as assistant secretary for Near Eastern, South Asian and African Affairs.

Also there's Averell Harriman, who was secretary of commerce under President Truman and is now roving ambassador. Likewise, David K. Bruce, now ambassador to Great Britain, was under secretary of state from 1949 to 1952 in the Truman administration.

What does all this prove? That experience counts in government and a president who needs a specialist for a particular job doesn't stop to think how a man might have voted before but considers primarily whether he has the knowledge and background to do the job. Nor is President Kennedy an exception in applying that rule in the White House.

Money for Nothing? Farmer Puzzled.

I got a letter from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service that says, in effect, that I can get $24 to $32 by promising to NOT plant any wheat this year.

Matter of Fact

The U.S. government does not pay or receive a premium on any issue of coins or paper currency, domestic or foreign. The government does not engage in the rare coin business.

So They Say

If this is the strength figure necessary to maintain peace, this is the strength we must maintain until the peace of the world is assured beyond doubt. —Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee, on President Kennedy's request for increased military manpower.

The only way to lead a satisfactory life when you get old is not to retire but to work.—Former President Herbert Hoover on his 87th birthday.

Barbs

No news may be good news, but not at a women's bridge party.

Shades of purple ringed stupidly I never have planted, or intended to plant, a single wheat seed. The bureaucratic wellfare state is here for sure. Are the people who started this foolishness totally ignorant of this country's history?

Don't they cash their gravy checks with their backs to the cashier? Don't they realize that the money the government has, has to come from the people?

Can't they see that everytime the government handles money some slips through their fingers and falls through the gratings of federal bureaus never to be retrieved?

Don't they know it is 5 times easier to vote in some half-mile idea than to vote it out? The bureau it creates likes the soft money.

Will I collect my money for not planting the wheat that I wasn't going to plant anyway? I don't know. I don't know if my standard of ethics will allow me to sink to that depth of dishonesty.

Besides, I keep remembering something Ben Franklin and Tom Jefferson said. Yes, and some Shakespeare character who said, "What fools these mortals be."

Women's Failing

By BUD SPRUNGER
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)Gentlemen: Do department store statements make your wife nervous?

Does she hide them from you until pay day?

Does she try to disappear while you figure them out?

Does she point to a figure nervously and say: "Cross off that $17.60. I took those gloves back. And they were very nice about it."

Does she think the beginning and end of paying bills is a 10-minute bawling out from you, to be forgotten immediately?

Buster, we are in the same league.

And it is worse than you think. Worse than at least one large New York store realizes. The store thinks it owes me around $300. It said so right on the last statement.

That was the great awakening. You and I and that store all know that no department store ever owes any husband.

Going on that premise, I conducted a full-scale investigation and learned that my wife doesn't understand what the bill says. She doesn't know that a store can mark down on one bill what we owe (black ink) and what I have paid or what she has returned (red ink). It was just so many numbers to her—and she blamed her high school math teacher.

Your wife probably has the same failing. And I'd advise you not to teach her differently.

Take my case. We bought a couch and not wanting to get into our usual troubles with so much money involved I left a check, telling my charmer to give it to the man who delivered the couch.

The store, sinking in a quicksand of slips left behind by these ladies when they return gloves, etc., credited me with the amount of the check (red ink) but forgot to charge me for the sofa (black ink). That left me way ahead.

The mistake was explaining to her the difference between red ink and black ink. Now she figures out red ink very well and is delighted. She intends to spend her balance (it has ceased to be "our" balance) forthwith.

Probably the best thing would be to lock her up when I come to work.

Council Is Told of Untaxed Homes

EAST PALESTINE — James Akenhead, a retired ice cream manufacturer and former member of the Board of Education, advised that there is at least one million dollars worth of real estate that is not on the tax duplicate, when he addressed members of City Council at their meeting last night.

Akenhead explained that this represents most of the new homes built in the last five years, and he said it would help provide funds for a five-mill operating levy the school board wants placed on the November ballot.

Council members explained that the city requires building permits and other than this has no way of putting real estate on the tax duplicate. The property appraisal job is up to the county, they said.

The Board of Education met Monday night and discussed plans to present reasons why a five-mill operating levy is needed.

A 2½ mill levy will be on the November ballot for renewal, along with the new five-mill levy.

A hearing for the parents of two young Salem girls found playing alone in a downtown Youngstown department store Saturday has been set for 9:30 a.m. Thursday before Columbiana County Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin.

The tots spent Friday night there and when they awoke Saturday morning they found they were alone. The children said they got their own breakfast because the grandmother had gone to work.

Later Saturday morning the girls wandered downtown where they were found playing with dolls in a department store. They were taken to the Youngstown police station by a patrolman.

The parents arrived from Salem Saturday afternoon and were ordered to report to juvenile authorities to explain why the children were downtown.

Stockbroker Admits Theft Of $50,000

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police were trying to determine today what Wilbur H. Ficken, a stockbroker, did with $50,000 they say he admitted taking by forging a client's checks.

Detectives said Ficken, 45, refused to tell what he had done with the money taken by forging the checks of Mrs. Howard E. Cregar of suburban Rocky River.

Ficken was released on $500 bond Monday by Municipal Court Judge Hugh A. Corrigan and was to appear this morning on a forgery charge.

Detectives said the checks were forged while Ficken was a representative of Prescott & Co., a stock brokerage firm. He left that firm a month ago to join another security firm, a Prescott partner said.

David E. Kreid, the partner, said Ficken had been bonded while he was a Prescott employee and that any loss would be made up by the bonding company. He said no Prescott funds were involved.

Kreid said the exact figure on the missing funds was not available because some of Ficken's transactions with Mrs. Cregar's funds had not been made through the company. He added that an audit is being made.

Another popular class has been one for foreign-born people in the community. Through a YWCA class in basic English, some who could not speak our language became proficient in a short time.

The Y-teens, a youth group which includes young people of all races, creeds and backgrounds, also has been a highly successful activity of the local YWCA.

Although the local YWCA has only a skeleton staff, approximately 700 persons were enrolled in classes here from Sept. 1, 1960 through Aug. 31, 1961.

Other activities, including meetings of a community or educational nature, accounted for the presence of over 2,900 people. Approximately 3,600 persons enjoyed the use of the YWCA building during the year. This was made possible, in part, by United Fund contributions and membership dues and fees but mostly through efforts of many dedicated volunteers.

Army To Test Fire Nike Zeus Antimissile Over Weekend

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army plans to try again next weekend to fire its Nike Zeus antimissile out over the Pacific.

The test, probably on Saturday, will come at a time when the Army is bidding anew for money to start limited production of parts for the controversial system.

Nearly a month ago, on Sept. 9,

Army technicians made their first effort to shoot the Nike Zeus from Point Mugu, Calif. Shortly after the missile shot skyward it exploded.

Although rebuffed repeatedly in the past, the Army is known to be seeking again to win an allocation in next year's defense budget for starting production of long-range items for the Zeus system.

Officials declined to say how much money was being sought, but it appeared likely the request might be about $100 million. The Army hoped for that amount a year ago but was turned down. In addition to production money, the Army is asking for about $200 million in the 1963 fiscal year for further development work on the Zeus, the most advanced U.S. antimissile system. This would bring to about $1.4 billion the amount applied to Zeus research and development.

Testifying before congressional groups earlier this year, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara spoke of "widespread doubts as to whether the Nike Zeus system should ever be deployed."

He said then that the system, mostly above ground, is vulnerable to ballistic missile attack. He also indicated he was not convinced that the Zeus could work effectively against enemy missiles screened by decoys.

Since then, resumption of Soviet nuclear testing has given rise to speculation that the Soviets may be working on an antimissile system.

The Army hopes this development, plus Soviet threats to build a super nuclear bomb with the explosive power of 100 million tons of TNT, may cause defense officials to look more favorably on the Zeus.

DAILY NEWSPAPERS

ARE NOW CARRYING MORE ADVERTISING TO MORE PEOPLE THAN EVER BEFORE

Daily newspaper circulation in the United States has now reached 60,283,114*—this is the highest figure in the history of our country. The combined newspaper circulation of the U.S. and Canada has also climbed to a new record—64,397,118.*

Steady vigorous growth such as this can come from only one thing: ever-increasing public and advertiser recognition of the newspaper's pre-eminence as a medium of communication. That's why advertisers also are investing more money in newspapers than ever before—$3,702,800,000 in 1960.

It is particularly important to advertisers—both national and local—that people are reading almost a million and a half more newspapers than a year ago, more than ever before. It means that advertisers' messages now have an even greater opportunity to be seen, absorbed, and acted upon.

More readers mean more prospects reached, more customers sold, more value for the advertising dollar. For a rising sales curve, use the daily newspaper to carry your advertising to the largest constant consumer audience in North America.

Massillon Remains On Top In High School Grid Poll

Crucial Season Games Slated For This Week

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The high school football capital of Ohio moves to Steubenville this week.

Two of the season's most important high school games are scheduled there — and someone's state title hopes are due for a boost or a knockout.

Massillon's defending champs and runaway leaders of the current Associated Press poll meet Coach Ray Hoyman's Big Red team of Steubenville High Friday night.

Niles McKinley, runner-up to Massillon last season and in second place in the 1961 ratings, tangles Saturday night with Steubenville Central Catholic.

Steubenville High is fifth in the poll with a 4-0 record and a 122-40 scoring mark. Massillon, also 4-0, has a 128-18 scoring edge. Anything could happen here.

Steubenville Central is well down in the statewide rankings, but it has rolled over four foes to the tune of 196-6, including a 70-0 pasting of Wheeling, W. Va., Central last Friday. Niles is 4-0 and has outpointed the opposition 172-28.

The ratings this week were made by 47 sports writers, biggest vote in some time. Only one change popped up in the top 10. Toledo Scott dropped out and Hamilton Garfield's great defensive team climbed all the way from 11th to 6th.

From here and there: If Martins Ferry played more Ohio schools, you couldn't keep the rugged Purple Riders out of the top 10. They've beaten four Pennsylvania and West Virginia teams this year, rolling up 154 points, and now boasts a 25-game winning streak and an unbeaten string of 28 reaching back to 1958. That's the state's longest victory skein.

Massillon blanked Alliance 26-0 before 19,500 Saturday, the Aviators gaining only 54 net yards, 44 on the ground. The champs have unbeaten Cincinnati Roger Bacon, Mansfield and eighth-ranked Warren coming up after Friday's Steubenville encounter.

Sandusky may have the state's top fullback in 212-pound Steward Williams who gained 245 yards and scored 24 points against Lorain's Admiral King team. He's fast and strong, too.

Butch Staten, Wellston's 151-pound senior fullback, has 66 points for four games. Another little fellow, Marion Harding's 145-pound Bob Holmes, gained 122 yards and scored twice in the 28-6 win over Lorain.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — How 47 sports editors, 33 from newspapers and 14 from radio-television stations, rate Ohio's high school football teams in this week's Associated Press poll.

Shown are the first place votes in parentheses, the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis, and the scoring records of the leaders:

With Or Without Mickey Mantle

Yankees Ruled Heavy 12-5 Favorites To Take Series

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees, with or without Mickey Mantle, today ruled heavy 12-5 favorites to win the World Series against the Cincinnati Reds.

Mantle, the junior partner in the M-M pitcher-wrecking company with 54 home runs, is recovering from minor surgery on his hip and is a questionable starter in the first game Wednesday.

If Mantle hasn't recovered enough, Manager Ralph Houk has nominated Hector Lopez to handle right field, with Roger Maris moving over to Mantle's center-field spot.

Whitey Ford (25-4), the bomb-er's top money pitcher for a decade, will take the mound against Cincinnati's Jim O'Toole (19-9) in the opener starting at 12 noon EST before a Yankee Stadium throng of about 70,000. Both are left-handers.

The weather forecast is for continued rain into Wednesday with temperatures between 60 and 70 degrees. Should rain force postponement the first game will be played Thursday with the second game, also at Yankee Stadium, on Friday.

The series will be carried on television and radio by NBC with a starting time of 11:45 a.m. EST in New York.

Mantle said the way he feels perturbed about the top-heavy odds against his club, has only one doubtful starter. Catcher Darrell Johnson has a strain in his left side. If he can't make it, Jerry Zimmerman probably will get the call.

The National League champions' lineup will be Don Blasingame, 2b; Ed Kasko, ss; Vada Pinson, cf; Frank Robinson, lf; Wally Post, rf; Gene Freese, 3b; Gordy Coleman, 1b; Johnson or Zimmerman, c; O'Toole, p.

"I see," observed Hutchinson, "that we're not supposed to have a chance. Well, we surprised people all season, and it's likely that we have one big one left."

Most observers figure the only chance the Reds' have of springing the same kind of upset as the Pittsburgh Pirates engineered last year is for their pitchers to squish the Yankee long-ball hitters.

The Reds will depend on O'Toole, Joey Jay and Bob Purkey, along with two fine relievers—Jim Brosnan and Bill Henry. Ken Johnson, a knuckleballer, also will be available in relief.

Defensively the Reds, who were picked to finish fifth or sixth in this year's pennant chase, have nothing to measure up to the Yanks.

"They say," laughed Freese, "you have to have strength down the middle to win a pennant. Look down our middle. You have to look 350 feet from home plate (to Pinson) to find strength."

Iowa Hawkeyes Retain Top Spot

Big Ten Power Gets 434 Votes

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Iowa Hawkeyes, who set their own pace in a 28-7 season-opening victory over California last Saturday, set it well enough to retain the No. 1 spot in the weekly Associated Press college football poll.

Twenty-four of the 49 members of the AP board of experts cast their first-place ballots for the Hawkeyes of the Big Ten. With plenty of secondary support from the other voters, they wound up with 424 points and a clear edge over Mississippi. The Rebels, also No. 2 a week ago, wound up with 16 first-place votes and 325 points. Ole Miss whipped Kentucky 20-6 for its second in a row.

Georgia Tech, noticed but unranked after clouting Southern California 27-7 in its first game, bolted up to third place after thumping Rice 24-0.

A chance for measuring comparative strength will come Saturday when Iowa plays Southern Cal at Los Angeles. Georgia Tech fans will be interested to see whether Iowa can handle the Trojan with anywhere near the ease that the Engineers did 10 days ago.

The top ten teams—points figured on a 10-9-8-7, etc. basis with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Iowa (24)	434
2. Mississippi (16)	325
3. Georgia Tech (5)	266
4. Alabama (1)	259
5. Texas (2)	218
6. Michigan State (1)	203
7. Syracuse	191
8. Ohio State	128
9. Michigan	123
10. Baylor	117

X—48 votes cast.

Uncle Sam Puts Dent In Browns Offensive Line

CLEVELAND (AP)—Uncle Sam may have put a dent in the Cleveland Browns' forward wall that will be hard to repair.

The dent is the possible absence of offensive tackle Dick Schafrath, who has been called up with the reserves. The veteran lineman still hopes his commanding officer at Mansfield will approve his participation in football on his day off.

"If Dick can't play it's going to hurt us tremendously," said Coach Paul Brown. "These other fellows are young and willing but lack experience. We may have to call on Lou Groza."

The other fellows are Ed Nutting, 245-pound rookie from Georgia Tech, and Errol Linden, 260-pound freshman from the University of Houston.

Groza used to play a lot of offensive tackle but so far this season has been specializing in placekicking. Brown is a little reluctant to risk injury to Groza, who has been important in both the Browns' victories this year.

Player Turned Writer

Berra Lauds Houk In First Year At Helm

EDITORS NOTE — Here is Yogi Berra's first newspaper story, written exclusively for The Associated Press. The famous New York Yankee catcher, who holds more World Series records than any other man, will write for AP afternoon papers throughout the series.

By YOGI BERRA

Written for The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — Don't laugh. I might just as well become a sports writer. Didn't Casey Stengel start out as a left-handed dentist? And didn't Johnny Neun, an old Baltimore socker writer, become manager of the Cincinnati Reds?

You could look it up. I got that expression from being around Stengel in so many World Series. After all he called me his assistant manager. I heard him tell it to his writers a few times.

Casey used to ask me about the pitchers. I guess it helped some. Look at how long Whitey Ford has been around. Remember Whitey broke in at a tough time against Vic Rashi (21 wins), Ed Lopat (21) and Allie Reynolds (17) and he won his first World Series start against the Phillies in 1950. Should have had a shut-out, too.

Aside from what Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle did this year in helping us Yankees set home run records, I'd like to comment on the fine job Ralph Houk did as our manager. Here is a fellow who went to bat only twice in World Series action. And he tried to take my job as a catcher on the Yankees. He never quit trying and look where he is today.

Why, now I'm not even his assistant manager. He did it all himself.

So not only did I lose that job this year but also my job as No. 1 catcher on one of the greatest

SEEKS GRID OPPONENTS

Newton Falls High School is still seeking grid opponents on open dates of Oct. 19 and Nov. 3, according to James Heber, high school athletic director.

Schools of comparable size interested in scheduling a game are asked to contact Newton Falls High School as soon as possible. Both games are preferred away at the opponent's field, Heber said.

Tribe Begins Tough Era With McGaha

CLEVELAND (AP) — The signing of Mel McGaha as manager of the Cleveland Indians marks the beginning of a new era in baseball here.

Gone is the easy good humor of Jimmie Dykes, who was a symbol of a slower, happier time. McGaha is a young, tough leader who has a reputation for hitting hard.

"I have one philosophy in baseball," said the new skipper following his appointment Monday. "That is to win. I play to win and I'll do anything to achieve that purpose. I know that sounds brutal, but there it is."

McGaha, at 35 the youngest manager in major league baseball, was the Indians' first base coach this season. Dykes, 64, was released just before the Tribe's finale in Los Angeles Sunday.

When he was handed his pink slip Dykes said he felt sorry for his successor. "This job is murder," he said. "The troublemakers make it a suicide position."

General Manager Gabe Paul admitted there were some troublemakers in the Tribe's ranks when he handed McGaha the job of pulling the Indians together.

U.S. Davis Cuppers Meet Italy Next

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — With Chuck McKinley a doubtful starter and Tut Bartzten not interested, United States Davis Cup captain Davis Freed wondered today if he will be able to scrape up enough players to throw against Italy in the interzone tennis final Oct. 13-15.

Freed's charges wound up a 3-2 victor over Indian in the interzone semifinal Monday and he promptly began worrying about the series with Italy which will determine the challenger to Australia in December.

Last year, the Italians defeated the Americans in the interzone final and went on to bow to Australia in the challenge round. That was on grass in Australia.

This time, the interzone final will be on clay in Rome where Nicola Pietrangeli and Co. are considered virtually unbeatable.

McKinley is due back to Trinity (Tex.) University, where he is a sophomore — and university officials are taking a dim view of any more tennis for the current semester.

Bartzten, 33, generally conceded the best clay courts player in the United States, turned thumbs down on the idea.

"Davis Cup tennis requires a lot of time and energy, mentally as well as physically," he said at his Dallas home. "I can't devote the time I feel necessary to do the right job."

Player Still Top Paid Pro Golfer

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Gary Player didn't gain any ground last week in his bid for professional golfing's money-winning crown, but he didn't lose any either.

Player is still well out in front with winnings for the year of $63,490. Professional Golfers Association figures show. In second place is last year's leading money winner, Arnold Palmer, with $57,732.

Buckeyes to Face UCLA's Single Wing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Single-wing football, seldom seen anymore, will spice the scene Saturday in Ohio Stadium.

UCLA's Bruins, exponents of the style of attack abandoned by most teams with the rise of the T-formation, will give the fans a bang, says Ohio State end coach Esco Sarkkinen, who scouted them last week.

"They break out of the huddle like a spiral conga line, all in step like chorus girls," Sark said. "It's very pretty, and the crowd will love it."

Improvement over the Buckeyes' showing in the 7-7 tie with Texas Christian in last week's opener is foreseen by Coach Woody Hayes. He said at his weekly press luncheon Monday that UCLA will "be meeting a better Ohio State team than TCU did."

Hayes said that in the opener "we made more mistakes than we'll make in midseason games. The odd part is that the newcomers made fewer mistakes than our veterans."

Sarkkinen, who scouted UCLA in an opening 19-6 win over the Air Force Academy and in Saturday's 29-6 loss to Michigan, considers the Bruins plenty dangerous.

Ten seniors and one junior are in the UCLA starting lineup. Sarkkinen says, "It's not a massive team, but it has speed and power."

Flying "B" Holds Final Field Event

The Flying "B" Golf League held its final Field Day events Saturday at the Flying "B" course.

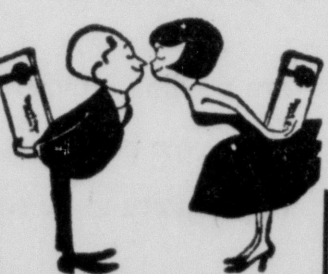

Special prizes were won by Ralph Knepper and Homer Detwiler, who tied for low gross scores of 76 during the day's golfing. Knepper also capped a prize in the longest drive category with a blast of 330 yards.

A short business meeting followed the awards' presentation, at which time the officers for 1962 were elected. Ed McLain was re-elected president; Lloyd Lindquist was elected vice president; Dempsey Balsey secretary, and George McCloskey re-elected treasurer.

Members of the league's championship team, Corso's Wine Shop, were presented individual trophies, and sponsor Mike Corso was on hand to receive the sponsor's trophy donated by Paul Ritchie. The winning team was composed of Ray Mercer, Bill Wagner, Ralph Knepper, Don White and Dick Wyss.

Salem Frosh Bow To Leetonia Bears 6-0

The Freshman edition of the Salem Quakers suffered their first loss in three outings as they bowed to the Leetonia Frosh 6-0. The locals now hold a 1-1 record.

The lone tally came when the Bears intercepted a Quaker pass late in the second quarter.

Salem Coach Bing Newton, a Leetonia High graduate, stated that the Bears were "the best team we've played all year. Our defense was as good as usual but our offense was below par," he added.

Next Thursday the Fresh men will play host to the West Branch Warriors at Reilly Stadium.

Questions—Answers

Q—What weather fact do we learn by studying the width of the individual rings in the trunk of a tree?

A—The degree of raininess or dryness of the year. A thick ring shows the year was rainy, a thin ring that it was dry.

LITTLE LIZ

A modern college athlete is one whose father writes to him for money.

Let's talk about vitamins

Vitamins are the one product you must take on faith. You can't see them, taste them or smell them. That's why it's doubly important always to buy vitamins in a DRUG store, where you have specialists to advise you and where you are assured of getting full value for your money. (Some non-drug-store outlets, you know, charge from four to ten times as much for vitamins of the same potency your pharmacist offers.) So, get the very good habit of buying all health items at a DRUG store—this one.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Osteoporosis May Be Clue To Illness

Q—Would you write about osteoporosis? What is it? Is it serious? Can anything be done to cure it? I have just gotten an X-ray report that says I have osteoporosis of my bones. I am 52 years old and had the "change" four years ago.

A—Osteoporosis is a disturbance in which the bone structure appears faintly outlined due to loss of calcium (lime). Under ordinary circumstances it is the calcium salt that holds up passage of the X-ray and thus produces the shadow that is seen on the film. The condition is not serious in itself although it may be an indication of the presence of a serious underlying disease. It is not related to the menopause although it is most often observed in middle or later life.

Treatment of osteoporosis depends on its basic cause. If it is due wholly to an insufficient dietary intake of calcium, it is easily corrected by concentrating on milk, cream, butter and cheese.

If it is due to excess loss of calcium through the intestines as in diarrheal diseases, dietary treatment must be supplemented by measures directed toward control of the bowels.

Q—I understand that there are special Cancer Detection Clinics in New York and other large cities. How do you arrange to be examined at these clinics? And how often should a middle-aged couple visit these clinics?

A—The Strang Cancer Prevention Clinic is connected with the Memorial Hospital for Cancer and Allied Diseases at 419 East 67 Street in New York City, to which requests for appointments may be addressed.

While I strongly advocate examinations for cancer detection at least twice each year, I personally prefer to have these surveys made by the family physician. In my minority opinion, there is no part of the cancer detection survey that cannot be carried out successfully and competently during the course of a careful physical examination by any well-trained and conscientious practitioner.

However, since the survey is time-consuming, it is wise to state the purpose of the examination when the appointment is made so that sufficient time is set aside for a complete and thoughtful investigation.

Included in this investigation are exploration of all body cavities, a chest X-ray, a blood count, urinalysis, stool tests and the painless collection of material for the all-important tests known as Papanicolaou spreads.

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions but regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters of general or unusual interest.

Veteran Pilot Ends 41-Year Career Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Capt. Dick Merrill, one of the last of the old-time fliers, ends a 41-year career of commercial piloting today. He isn't giving up flying, though. "I'd like to fly until I'm 90," said the veteran pilot who once filled his plane full of table tennis balls for a historic two-way hop over the Atlantic—so it would float if it wouldn't fly.

"I got a terrific kick out of it," he added. "I can pass the physical examination for a license just as well as ever, and I expect to spend much more time in the air."

At 67, the trim, erect and tanned Merrill has put in some 37,000 hours aloft and has flown an estimated eight million miles.

It was in 1926 that Merrill flew singer Harry Richman across the Atlantic and back in a single-engine plane loaded with the table tennis balls. He said it was the first Atlantic round trip by plane.

In 1937, he made another such hop and termed it the first commercial round trip. He carried photographs of the Hindenburg airship disaster to England, and brought back pictures of King George's coronation. For that trip he received the Harmon trophy from President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Merrill, graying but with few marks of age in his face, ends his official piloting career as No. 2 in seniority for Eastern Air Lines. He and Gene Brown, who is No. 1, flew Eastern's first plane 34 years ago. It was a mail craft. Brown is still with the airline. The plane is in the Smithsonian Institution.

Merrill began his long career in 1920 barnstorming around the country in an old World War I Jenny he bought for about $500.

In 1935, Merrill made a four-day flight from Kansas City, Mo., to the Strait of Magellan near the southern tip of South America to deliver a plane used in a search for explorer Lincoln Ellsworth, then lost in the antarctic.

Merrill's last flight before retiring will be on a 550-m.p.h. jetliner from New York to Miami, his home. For the past two years he has been a pilot who checks on the work of younger men. He will remain as a consultant to Eastern, and expects to buzz about in smaller private craft.

Many people considered the tomato poisonous until late in the 19th century, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.
